

CSA Newsletter | Week # 2

Notes from the Field

Some timely precipitation last weekend gave our thirsty plants a reprieve from the dry conditions and kept things growing. Although we have had thunderstorms and showers dancing around us here since Monday, thus far all of them have missed us. Fingers crossed we get some of the rain in the forecast for today and tomorrow!

Our crew and ourselves are still working hard trying to catch up on the weeding, even while we begin to spend more time harvesting produce each week. Should you want to come out and help us in the gardens, you're all more than welcome! Email Tamara if you feel like coming out and pulling some weeds and checking out the farm.

We hope you enjoyed the first week of the CSA. It will only get better and better!

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the next pick up.
